Leadership in family law

President's welcome

Dear FLPA member

Member information kit 2011/2012

As president of the Family Law Practitioners' Association of Queensland (FLPA), I would like to personally welcome you as a member. I encourage you to participate in FLPA's many events throughout the year.

This member information kit is your gateway to the many benefits and professional development opportunities which membership of FLPA affords you. In it, you will find information about FLPA's court facilities, executive committee, as well as how to access the 'members only' section of the website.

You will also find other useful resources such as contact centre details, practice directions issued by court and some judges' individual precedent directions. We will update these as necessary and include new information as it comes to light.

Attached to the member information kit, you will find additional resources including templates and the FLPA logo to promote your membership in your own business marketing. You can also obtain your own FLPA membership certificate on request.

In addition to this kit, you will receive a quarterly FLPA newsletter Round Table and regular FLPA e-alerts via email letting you know of events and changes that will affect your day-to-day family law practice.

FLPA is a strong, collegial association that is fun, stimulating and rewarding. I hope you will join me in anticipation of what will be a great year. The success of our events depends on the participation of all our members and in return, we look forward to supporting and assisting you in any way we can.

Deborah Awyzio
FLPA president

ABOUT FLPA

1. Role and goals

The Family Law Practitioners' Association (FLPA) is Queensland's leading industry body representing those who work in family law – solicitors, barristers, social workers, psychologists, members of the judiciary and associated fields.

FLPA was established in 1984 to promote reform of family law and related legislation.

As a respected industry body, FLPA provides you with the credibility of being part of a professional body and the opportunity to promote your professional qualifications to other members and potential clients.

FLPA's constitution is available on the FLPA website.

2. Vision

The Family Law Practitioners' Association of Queensland (FLPA) aspires to be the leading body in family law in Queensland.

3. Mission

The Family Law Practitioners' Association of Queensland (FLPA) is a collegial body for family law practitioners. It provides you with leadership, education and practical resources to assist you in your day-to-day practice.

4. Objectives

FLPA has the following objectives:

- Advocate on behalf of professional family law practitioners.
- Provide relevant networking and learning and development opportunities for members.
- Promote reform of family law and related legislation.

FLPA MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

1. Networking

FLPA hosts social and educational events throughout the year, both in Brisbane and regionally. These events provide members with a valuable meeting ground and professional development opportunities.

Our flagship event is the annual conference, the Family Law Residential, which is held in conjunction with the Queensland Law Society and explores topical issues for family law practitioners and emerging legal challenges for modern families.

Other events include twilight educational seminars on legal and other professional topics of interest, young practitioner networking and mentoring events, and social drinks.

2. Professional development

Members can maintain their skills and industry knowledge with our program of seminars and lectures delivered by recognised industry leaders.

3. Logo and branding

Your FLPA membership provides you with an increased network and increased credibility within the family law industry. We encourage members to promote their FLPA membership by using the FLPA logo on your website and other marketing material. An electronic version of the FLPA logo is attached with this member information kit.

As a member, you are also profiled on the FLPA website where potential clients can search for your details.

4. Certificate of membership

A PDF file of your own membership certificate is provided each year for you to print and proudly frame in your office. Please contact the FLPA secretariat on membership@flpa.org.au to request your certificate.

5. Code of ethics

Through your FLPA membership, you are recognised as a professional who stands for honesty, truth, integrity and ethical standards.

6. Information

FLPA works hard to provide the latest industry information to members by issuing regular updates via e-alerts and the quarterly email newsletter, Round Table. This information helps you further your industry knowledge and keeps you abreast of the changing legal landscape.

Case Watch provides insights into various case notes of significant recent cases by members, for members, and can be accessed through FLPA's website.

We provide current industry papers with a spotlight on key issues through the website for members. In addition, FLPA regularly provides documents and information on Family Court and Federal Magistrates Court of Australia procedures and rulings.

7. Photocopying and computer facilities

FLPA provides and fully maintains photocopying facilities at courts in Brisbane, Lismore, Rockhampton, Townsville, and Cairns.

FLPA provides members with access to the wireless network and the FLPA computer facilities located in the practitioners room on level 2 of the Brisbane Commonwealth Law Courts Building. These computers have internet access and allow members to log into their own CCH accounts for legal research purposes at court. FLPA also provides loose leaf resources in regional registries, free of charge to members.

To log into the computers use the FLPA member account with the password:

family

To log into the wireless network for members with laptops use the following:

SSID: FLPAQ
Wireless Security: WPA
Pre-Shared Key: familylaw

Please ensure you bring a memory stick with you to court to save any documents, as documents cannot be saved on the computers. There is also a printer connected to the computers for the convenience of members.

If you have any technical or administrative queries, please contact us on membership@flpa.org.au with 'FLPA court computers' in the subject line.

2. Practice directions issued by court

As these rules are amended regularly, this kit provides a link to the relevant rules for the Family Court of Australia and the Federal Magistrates Court of Australia. The entire rules can be downloaded from both individual sites.

The relevant rules for the Family Court of Australia are available at:

<http://www.comlaw.gov.au/Current/F2011C00135>

The relevant rules for the Federal Magistrates Court of Australia are available at:

3. Standard parenting order

To help you best prepare for court, FLPA provides you with a standard parenting order template. This will give you a guide on the formatting and the annexures required by the court. This is provided as an attachment to this member information kit.

4. Joint applications for consent orders – Family Court

Attached to this member information kit is a recent letter from the Family Court outlining the details of the difficulties that registrars encounter with consent order applications. Taking note of these difficulties may help increase the rate at which these applications are processed.

- Registrars frequently see the following technical difficulties in applications for consent orders and these will lead to the application being requisitioned:
- In de facto property applications, the failure to provide the written consent by the parties and/or legal statement of legal advice by a legal practitioner where the parties are opting in.
- Parties using an obsolete version of the Application form.
- Parties not completing all the required questions of the joint application.
- Parties not attaching copies of orders, undertakings, parenting plans or agreements or providing details of the same.
- Parties failing to provide adequate information in relevant parts of the application to address the threshold of whether the financial orders are just and equitable, especially in the situation where one of the parties is not legally represented.
- The inclusion of child support orders in the Minute of Orders.
- The parties not providing three clean typed certified copies of the Minutes of Consent Order or a form of order for the Registrar to sign.
- The Affidavit of the Applicant/Respondent in the application not completed.
- Parties not supplying a valuation/completed Superannuation Information Form where a superannuation splitting order is sought.
- Parties seeking an order for the Family Law Act 1975 for “joint parental responsibility” notwithstanding the decision in NandN (2007) FamCA 168.
- Parties failing to address the issue of parental responsibility in the orders.
- The drafting of Orders to be made in the Federal Magistrates Court and under that Court’s Rules rather than in the Family Court of Australia and under the Family Law Rules.

5. Magellan orders – Justice Murphy

The following are the standard orders that Justice Murphy of the Family Court of Australia makes at Magellan Directions hearings. They give you an indication of what to expect when having a matter heard by Justice Murphy. Serious matters involving child abuse are heard at Magellan Directions hearings.

1. ADJOURN TO REGISTRAR FOR LISTING TO FINAL HEARING

The matter is adjourned to the Magellan Registrar at (time and date) for the making of all such directions as might be necessary for the further progress of this matter, including, if considered appropriate, directions for final hearing of this matter, and that unless otherwise ordered by the Registrar, such hearing shall be conducted by telephone.

2. ADJOURN TO FUTURE MAGELLAN DIRECTIONS LIST

The matter is adjourned for further hearing to the Magellan Directions List before Justice Murphy at (time and date) in the Brisbane Registry of the Family Court of Australia.

3. CONSENT AND VACATE

In the event that the parties reach agreement, they shall be at liberty to forward minutes of consent, by way of joint communication forwarded by email to the Associate to Justice Murphy at the email address Brisbane@familycourt.gov.au attaching a copy of the minutes of consent, and if considered appropriate, such orders shall be made by consent in chambers without the necessity of any appearance by the parties, and any future dates in respect of such orders will be vacated.

4. EXPERT REPORT

The parties do all such things, sign all such documents, pay all such fees and attend all such consultations as might be necessary so as to permit an independent single expert [psychiatrist or as the case may be] nominated by the Independent Children's Lawyer to prepare a report in respect of each of the parties and the child/ren to this relationship.

5. FAMILY REPORT

Pursuant to Section 62G of the Family Law Act, a report be prepared for the Court by a Family Consultant, Child Dispute Services, and that such report to be available, if possible, by (date).

- a) For the purpose of completing the Family Report the Family Consultant has permission to inspect the Court file and all documents/documents related to this matter.
- b) The Family Consultant has leave to read any document produced on subpoena once permission to inspect has been granted to a party or the Independent Children's Lawyer.
- c) The parties shall do all such things, sign all such documents, attend all such appointments and ensure the child/ren attend all such appointments as are reasonably necessary for the preparation of the Family Report.

6. SECTION 65L SUPERVISION ORDERS

Pursuant to Section 65L of the Family Law Act 1975:

- a) compliance with these parenting orders is to be supervised by a Family Consultant, Child Dispute Services of the Family Court of Australia Brisbane Registry;
- b) to the extent possible it is requested that the Family Consultant be (insert name);
- c) the Family Consultant shall give any party to the parenting orders such assistance as is reasonably requested by that party in relation to compliance with , and the carrying out of, the parenting orders;
- d) the parties shall do all such things, sign all such documents, attend all such appointments and ensure the child/ren attend all such appointments as are reasonably necessary for such supervision;
- e) the Family Consultant shall prepare a report, in respect of the supervision, and contact with the parties and child/ren and it is requested that, if possible, such report be available at the hearing listed for (date).

7. SECTION 69ZW - DISTRIBUTION OF REPORT

The Independent Children's Lawyer and each of the parties are provided with a copy of the Report, produced pursuant to s 69ZW, provided to the Court by the Department of Child Safety.

8. SECTION 121(9)(a) ORDERS

To the extent that the exception provided for section 121(9)(a) of the Family Law Act 1975 or the other provisions of that subsection do not otherwise authorise same, the Independent Children's Lawyer shall have leave to publish:

- a) an account of these proceedings;
AND/OR
- b) all such documents and information relevant to these proceedings as the Independent Children's Lawyer might consider appropriate, including, without limiting the generality thereof, the Child and Parents Issues Assessment prepared by (name) on (date) and copies of any documents produced pursuant to subpoenae in these proceedings;
AND/OR
- c) the reports of (name of expert) and the reporting social worker (name) annexed to the Affidavits filed by the Independent Children's Lawyer on (date), to the Magistrates Court of Queensland for use in Children's Court proceedings in that Court.

9. SUBPOENA - LEAVE TO INSPECT

Unless otherwise ordered, leave be granted to ALL PARTIES to INSPECT and the INDEPENDENT CHILDREN'S LAWYER ALONE to COPY documents produced pursuant to subpoenae, save in respect of any document of which a claim for privilege attaches and/or in respect of which confidentiality is claimed, in which case an application is to be brought before Justice Murphy to inspect such documents.

6. Standard trial directions – Justice Bell

The following are the standard trial directions from Justice Bell in the Family Court of Australia.

Each party must lodge in the court five clear days prior to commencing a trial a document containing the following:

- A minute of orders sought by that party.
- A brief and concise statement of the material facts asserted by the party in support of the orders sought.
- A proposed minute of order in the event the other party's case is made out.
- A list of the affidavits each party proposes to rely upon at trial.

Should a party fail to file a list of documents in accordance with this order the trial dates are to be vacated unless within four days of the expiry an application to restore the trial dates together with an affidavit explaining the failure to file as directed is filed.

9. Shadow expert checklist

When valuing a business in a client's settlement, the following questions may help you determine whether you require a shadow expert or adviser when you have a single expert report for a client's matter (Grant Thornton, 2011).

- Does the single expert report have a template feel to it, largely containing non-specific descriptions and being short on its specific application to the matters at hand?
- Does the single expert report lack transparency as to:
 - 1) the financial performance of the business?
 - 2) the financial information relied upon?
 - 3) the calculations performed to reach the expert's conclusions?
- Are there issues as to the control exerted by the interest being valued?
- Is there a restricted or non-existent market for the interest being valued?
- Is the interest being valued a minority interest with the single expert report ignoring a discount for lack of control and marketability?
- Have the earnings of the business fluctuated significantly but the single expert report contains limited or no analysis as to the causes of likely effect on future earnings?
- Is there an over reliance on historical financial results when forecast information is available?
- Are explanations for the capitalisation rate chosen limited to the standard or 'template' factors that are not specific to the entity in question?
- Is there a change in the economic conditions or regulatory change impacting on the business that is not addressed by the expert?
- Are there issues (eg a deliberate run down in sales or unexplained cost increases) that have not been addressed?
- Has the single expert excluded consideration of Division 7A tax implications and taxation realisation costs?

If you answered yes to any of the above, your client's matter may benefit from a shadow expert.
